Procylical and countercyclical variables are variables that fluctuate in a way that is positively or negatively correlated with fluctuations in gross domestic product (GDP). The scope of the concept may differ between the context of business cycle theory and that of economic policy-making. The concept is often encountered in the context of a government's approach to spending and taxation.

Varmint hunting is the practice of hunting vermin, generally small mammals targeted as a means of pest control, rather than for food. Varminter may refer to a varmint hunter, or describe hunting equipment either specifically designed for, or suitable for varmint hunting, such as a varmint rifle. Varmint hunters may hunt to exterminate a nuisance animal from their own property, to collect a ...
